DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the apertures of the first and second tube members (114 and 116 respectively) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Specifically, the independent claims recite:

“...first (116) and second (114) tube members telescopically mounted relative to one another, the first tube member having a jack foot (118) attached to a distal end and selectively engaging a supporting surface, the first tube member (Figure 1, 116) having a plurality of apertures spaced apart along the length of the first tube member and adapted for movement of one of the apertures of the first tube member into register with an aperture of the second tube member, and a jack pin

Art Unit: 3723

(120) adapted to engage and disengage with registered apertures of the first and second tube members..."

First, the drawings do not illustrate apertures on the first and second tube members 114 and 116. Secondly, the jack pin is adapted to engage with an aperture on the lever arm and clamping member, not the first and second tube members. Are the first and second tube members of the independent claims intended to describe the tube members 302 and 304 of Figure 3? From what the examiner understands, it is this sliding relationship that allows the outer and innermost tubes to collapse. When segments 302 and 304 are pushed apart via the lever arm, components 114 and then 116 can collapse. When components 302 and 304 are forced together by the lever arm, the clamping member locks tubes 114 and 116 in a stowed position? Concluding, the examiner does not fully understand how the applicants claimed invention operates. Furthermore, without drawings depicting essential claimed subject matter, it is extremely difficult to ascertain the scope of the claims.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 11/26/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

2. Applicant has responded to the 112 and drawing issues.

a. The prior art drawing does not show the present invention having all of the features being set out in the claim. Therefore there is not drawing showing all of the claimed features of the applicant invention. It is fine to show what the prior art has but the applicant must at least have a drawing the supports claim 1 of the invention. Therefore the rejection stands.

Conclusion

Due to the inability of the examiner to fully comprehend the scope of applicant's claimed invention, references have not been applied.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
